HEALTH AND HYGIENE

Health is a quality of life that enables you to live a longer life. The World Health Organization (WHO) defines health as "a condition of complete physical, mental, spiritual, and communal well-being, rather than only the absence of illness. "A person is not regarded as healthy if he/she is free of sickness or in good bodily shape but is stressed, tense, angry, greedy, or in any other way. Hygiene is the science and art of maintaining and improving one's physical and mental well-being. Hygiene enables people to have a healthy interaction with their surroundings. It is applicable to both individuals and communities. Recognizing the importance of hygiene and sanitation in maintaining good health and to undertake this mission for educating individual as well as community on health and hygiene our students Pushpa B.Ed. 2023-25 (Awareness and distributing Sanitary pads), Priyanka B.Com.2023-26 (Providing mask, protection from pollution), Kiran B.P.Ed. 2023-25 (Awareness towards women health), Balram B.P.Ed. 2023-25 (Provision of first aid kit in schools), Shakshi B.A. 2021-24 (Distribution of sanitary pads in rural areas), Farzana M.A. Geography 2022-24 (Awareness of sanitary usage in slums),

SAY NO TO PLASTIC

Much of the planet earth is swimming in discarded plastic, which is harming animals and possibly even human health. Millions of animals are killed by plastics every year, from birds to fish to other marine organisms. Nearly 700 species, including endangered ones, are known to have been affected by plastics. Plastic pollution has become one of the most pressing environmental issues, especially in developing Asia and African nations, where garbage collection systems are often inefficient or non-existent. Today, every individual or average consumer comes into daily contact with all kinds of plastic materials. Since synthetic plastics are largely non- biodegradable, they tend to persist in natural environment. Plastic also pollutes without being littered specifically through the release of compounds used in its manufacture. Given the global scale of plastic pollution, the cost of removing plastics from environment would be prohibitive. Most solutions to the problem of plastic pollution, therefore focus on preventing improper disposal or even on limiting the use of certain plastic items in the first place.

SKILL DEVELOPMENT IN FASHION DESIGNING AND INTERIOR DESIGNING

Interior designing is basically considering the desired comfort and functionality of the user while performing related activities and resulting in maximum possible efficiency. A student needs to remember that one simply isn't born with skills, although a few may come naturally to some students. Skills can be learned, developed, encouraged and nurtured to transform a student into a better designer. Today's interior designer is not a mere decorator, he/she is a professional. Therefore, an interior designer possesses a wide range of talent, skills and abilities. To impart these skills in Department of Home Science, Baboo Ram Singh Mahavidyalaya, organises seminars, workshops, training programs to tap maximum benefits to students pursuing fashion and interior designing. Fashion design is a creative profession that requires innovation and imagination. Designers must be able to envision new patterns, styles and shapes. They should understand different sewing techniques and basic tasks, such as adding buttons and zippers. Designers must choose the most appropriate needles, thread and machine settings for their designs. It's important as a student of fashion designing to understand of entrepreneurship works and how marketing, finance and sales play a key role in the business. All these entrepreneurial skills are imparted to students by faculty members to provide them a platform to succeed in life
